MORNING STAR MAY GO TO SHANGHAI

BRITISH MISSIONARY SOCIETY MAY TAKE OVER THE MISSION WORK IN GILBERT ISLANDS.

It is not unlikely that the mission work in the Gilbert Islands may be transferred from the American Board to the British Missionary Society. Negotiations looking to that end are now in progress. Should such a deal go through, it will mean that the missionary steamer Morning Star which is now in this port awaiting orders, may be directed to go to Shanghai where she will be offered for sale by the American Board.

The Gilbert Islands belong to Great Britain and the American Board considers that it is just as well to have the British Missionary Society look after the missionary work in that field. The British society has a steamer, the John Williams, which is able to attend to all of its mission business in the South Seas, and should the proposed arrangement be successful, there would be no further use for the Morning Star. She will be too large a craft for the work in the Caroline Islands and the American Board will secure a smaller craft. It is not unlikely therefore, that she will be sent to Shanghai and offered for sale. There is no demand for such a craft at this place.

WHICH IS THE HOUSE?

Naturally enough, when it was seen that even the sacred precincts of Judd street had been invaded by the awful gamblers and that Sheriff Brown had done nothing to protect the residents of that moral thoroughfare, a thrill of indignation ran through the entire community and there has been a demand, as that of one voice, that the perpetrators of this Sabbath day iniquity shall be shown up in their true colors.

That gambling and drunkenness should prevail behind the big nail-studded, four-inch-thick doors people might easily be led to believe by Judd street! And on the Sabbath! It is absolutely too awful!

Let anyone familiar with Judd street take a survey of the different well-known residents whose places would answer to the description given by the Advertiser.

First on the miska side comes the residence of Mrs. E. K. Wilder. One need hardly pause there. S. G. Wilder comes next and he is known to have such an antipathy for cards that he will not attend a card party. He has never been heard to express a fondness for craps either. H. M. Von Holt's place is next in line but he is away from the city so he must be excused.

Governor Carter's own place is the next. It might have fallen under suspicion in the old unregenerate days for perhaps the Governor when a gay young college blade may have learned poker or even craps but as everyone knows, he is a changed man now.

Let us take the gentle reader by the hand and stroll along the makai side of the street.

Mrs. M. McInerney's house—surely even the Advertiser, would not suggest that there the orgie goes on? The Superintendent of Public Works C. S. Holloway has his abode next and as he is one of Governor Carter's official family, it is impossible that he would countenance such diddings on Sunday.

And here the plot thickens to the consistency of pea soup. The house of Rev. H. H. Parker of Kawaiahao church is next in line followed by the residence of Mrs. Henry Wilcox superintendent of Kawaiahao Sunday school. One trembles at the thought that the Advertiser could have seen these well-mannered highly respectable young men of whom it speaks sleeping off their joyful Sabbath jags under the mango trees which appertain to either of these premises?

And at last—Supervisor E. R. Adams. Perish the thought! It could not be there, for was it not Supervisor Adams himself who said that there was gambling going on which the police did not stop? And is not the Supervisor much too shrewd a man? Even if he were running a Sunday game (and nobody believes he is) is it likely that he would give the snap away?

So there we are. We wander disconsolately, gentle reader, up and down Judd street and cannot find the place of orgie. Was the Advertiser's detective with the false black whiskers on the wrong street?

men as witnesses for the prosecution, who testified to having bought liquor in Fisher's place. There was a good lot of the "spy" character about their evidence, and S. E. Chillingworth for the defense brought out on cross-examination that the prosecution depended upon spy evidence in very large part.

Chillingworth called Brady in defense and it appeared from his testimony that the beer which had been sold as was testified in Fisher's place, belonged to Bradley, and this closed the defense.

After five minutes' deliberation the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The jurors were Sylvester Crook, A. F. Cooke, Farm Corun, A. A. Montano, U. H. Jones, L. H. Doe, Frederick Turnbull, B. Saylor, M. Brasch and W. T. Raposo.

MURDERER DIES IN PRISON

KOSEKI WHO KILLED A FELLOW COUNTRYMAN, PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING.

Koseki, a Japanese murderer awaiting trial in Oahu prison, died this morning. He had been ill for some time, and had been attended by Dr. Mori. The doctor on being called to attend the case some weeks ago, gave his opinion that Koseki would not live long, and the end came this morning.

The cause of death appears to be in doubt. A prisoner who was near to Koseki's cell stated to High Sheriff Henry that Koseki had swallowed some teeth filings recently put in for him, and that this had caused trouble in his stomach. Dr. Mori diagnosed the case as one of stomach trouble of some sort, and thought that there was some sort of foreign growth in the stomach. An autopsy will settle the question. There is no suspicion of suicide, says the High Sheriff.

Koseki was under indictment for killing one Suemoto, on December 5 last, by cutting his throat with a big knife. The trouble occurred over the purchase of a woman.

AH ON PERJURY CASE MAY DROP

JUDGE ROBINSON INTIMATES THAT INDICTMENT AGAINST HIM IS NOT VALID.

The indictment against Ah On, for perjury at the inquest over Chong Choy Fat, who was shot during the Waipahu riot of last April, was argued before Judge Robinson this morning. Ah On testified at the Waipahu inquest that a certain policeman on horseback shot Chong, and he was indicted for perjury. The denumer of the indictment, by S. F. Chillingworth and A. S. Humphreys, was mainly on the ground that the indictment was defective in failing to state what was the truth in the matter, after stating that Ah On's allegations were false. Judge Robinson intimated that he regarded this as a vital defect, but did not give any ruling. The case was set for next Saturday for final argument.

her children have no other means of support than the alimony which the court ordered her husband to pay.

The Silva divorce was granted on March 31, 1902, and Silva was ordered to pay permanent alimony of $60 per month. The petition filed this morning asking for a contempt citation says that for about two years past he has failed to pay the money. E. A. Donth filed the petition in behalf of Mrs. Silva.

WILL WAIT FOR BISHOP LIBERT

BOARD OF HEALTH TO DELAY ACTION REGARDING CEMETERIES UNTIL THE HEAD OF THE LOCAL CATHOLIC CHURCH RETURNS NEXT MONTH—BOARD OF SUPERVISORS TO BE ASKED TO REGULATE ESTABLISHMENT OF CEMETERIES.

The city cemetery proposition is to be held in abeyance to await the return of Bishop Libert of the Catholic church, who is expected here next month. This is because one of the cemeteries which are most objected to by the Board of Health is the Catholic cemetery on King street, and the Board does not wish to take any action without consulting him.

The cemetery proposition as it is before the board is a movement to close all the cemeteries in town. In each of them it has been found practically impossible to dig a grave without unearthing "old corpses, and in many localities the grave diggers soon reach the water level and interments take place in water. These conditions are regarded as unhealthy, and the Board of Health has been trying for many months to remedy the matter.

Bishop Libert, accompanied by Father Valentini, has been on a visit to the Pope. He is now on his way back, and is expected here next month. If the Board of Health closes the Catholic cemetery on King Street the Catholics will probably want to arrange for another and the bishop will be called into conference before any definite action is taken. The Board of Supervisors will also be communicated with.

"As the bishop is coming back, I think it only proper to wait and have a consultation with him before anything is done," said President Pinkham of the Board of Health this morning. "The cemetery on King street is one of those which are the worst crowded and it will have to be acted on. But I do not advise doing anything until Bishop Libert returns.

"It seems to me that the cemetery proposition is one for the county supervisors to take up, and I shall ask them to act in the matter. The Board of Health's powers are very limited. We can control matters of sanitation, and if a cemetery is unhealthful we can close it, but the establishment of cemeteries is a public proposition which should be regulated by the supervisors, and I am in favor of referring the matter to them."

The Board of Health is scheduled to hold a meeting at three this afternoon, when the matter will come up for discussion. It will probably be laid over, however, to await the return of Bishop Libert.

ROYALTY MET ON STREET CORNER

PRINCESS THERESA AND PRINCE FERDINANDO HAD AN INFORMAL INTRODUCTION YESTERDAY

Princess Theresa Wilcox held an impromptu reception to Prince Ferdinando and other officers of the Italian cruiser Calabria yesterday afternoon. It had been the intention of the Princess to entertain the Italian prince in any event, but there was a charming simplicity and an absence of formality about yesterday's reception which must have proved attractive to the royal, noble and gallant visitors.

Of course it will be remembered that the late Robert W. Wilcox was educated at the Royal military schools of Italy, permission having been graciously given by the king of Italy. Naturally then the princess has much aloha for Italians and the visitors, in turn, made immediate enquiries as to her when they landed.

It happened yesterday that when Prince Ferdinando landed yesterday afternoon he engaged Joe Lucas' hack for a drive up town. He asked Joe where he could find Princess Theresa and Joe, who speaks Italian of the purest variety undertook to show him and his brother officers. Just as they passed the corner of King and Merchant streets who should appear but the princess herself. Thus it became the duty of Joe Lucas to draw together royalty from very widely separated portions of the world. He made the introductions and the princess graciously assented to join the Italian officers. She showed them about the town, pointed out the most interesting curios in shops where they desired to make purchases, and finally took them to her own home where they were entertained to a variety of Hawaiian delicacies. The visitors were very much pleased with the attention shown them.

ASSOCIATION ADJOURNS. The Oahu Evangelical Association concluded its semi-annual work today.

KINDERGARTENS WANT MENOY

SPECIAL COMMITTEE APPOINTED FOR THE PURPOSE OF ARRANGING AN ENTERTAINMENT.

A meeting of the Free Kindergarten Association was held this morning in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. when there were twelve ladies present. Mrs. Elizabeth Waterhouse presiding.

The main subject discussed being the absolute necessity for raising funds for the carrying on of the work. It was thought that an entertainment might be the best way to draw attention to the association's needs and a special committee consisting of Mrs. L. McCandless, Miss Frances Lawrence and Miss Jennie Parke was appointed to see what could be done in this line. The committee will report on Tuesday.

Reference was made to the remarks passed at the recent meeting of the Associated Charities, when it was urged that there was need of a trained nurse to visit the city schools, and it was pointed out that ever since the establishment of the kindergarten, Mrs. U. Thompson had done the work of a trained nurse for them. The ladies present joined in a chorus of praise for the self-sacrificing devotion of Mrs. Thompson, who not only goes to the Kindergarten and looks after the children there but also visits the homes of any who may be ill and attends to the families, if necessary.

BIG ALIMONY LONG OVERDUE

MRS. SILVA HAS A CLAIM OF ABOUT $1500 AGAINST HER FORMER HUSBAND.

A citation was issued this morning by Judge Robinson for M. G.
